

THE WILL OF GOD

A Guide to Knowing and Doing God's Will

Dr. Victor Chukwu

Copyright ©2025 Dr. Victor Chukwu
All rights reserved.

No part of this publication may be reproduced, distributed, or transmitted in any form or by any means, including photocopying, recording, or other electronic or mechanical methods, without the prior written permission of the author, except in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical reviews and certain other noncommercial uses permitted by copyright law. This book is intended for informational purposes only and is not meant to serve as medical or therapeutic advice. The author and publisher disclaim any liability arising directly or indirectly from the use of this book.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

5	Introduction
10	Chapter 1: The Power and Priority of God's Will
18	Chapter 2: The Dangers of Misaligned Will
26	Chapter 3: The Four Types of Will
47	Chapter 4: Seeking God's Will
59	Chapter 5: Knowing God's Will
65	Chapter 6: Mind Alignment
77	Chapter 7: Purpose Alignment
88	Chapter 8: Voice Alignment
100	Chapter 9: The Cost of Obedience
111	Chapter 10: Permissive Will vs. Perfect Will
121	Chapter 11: Living Out God's Will
132	Conclusion
138	A Note from the Author

THE WILL OF GOD

INTRODUCTION

What does God want from me?

That question—quiet or loud—lives in the heart of every believer. You’ve likely asked it before, maybe more than once. When making decisions. When facing pressure. When wondering if the direction you’re walking in is still God’s.

It’s not a small question. In fact, it might be one of the most important questions you ever ask. Because your peace, your purpose, and your legacy all hinge on it: What is the will of God for my life—and am I living in it?

This book was born from that tension. Not from having all the answers, but from wrestling with the right ones. From seeking not just to serve God outwardly, but to please Him inwardly. Because it’s one thing to act in God’s name—it’s another thing to actually walk in His will.

Why Understanding God's Will Matters

Let's start here: God has a will. He's not random. He's not passive. He's not sitting in heaven hoping you stumble into a meaningful life. No—He has a plan. A purpose. A design. A direction for you. A will.

The question is not whether He has one. The question is whether you're seeking it—and whether you're walking in it.

Understanding God's will matters because your decisions matter. Your time, your calling, your relationships, your money, your gifts—all of them are connected to whether or not you're aligned with God's plan for your life.

When you're in His will, even hard things make sense. Even storms serve you. Even setbacks become set-ups. But when you're outside His will, everything gets harder, heavier, and more confusing.

Living in God's will doesn't remove difficulty—but it redeems it.

Knowing vs. Doing

There's a difference between knowing God's will and doing it.

Some people know it—but they delay. Or they overthink. Or they resist, afraid of what it might cost. Others do what looks spiritual—but never actually stop to ask, “Is this what God wants from me?”

Jesus spoke to this directly:

“Not everyone who says to Me, ‘Lord, Lord,’ will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of My Father who is in heaven.”

— Matthew 7:21 (CSB)

Let that sink in: it's possible to say the right things, look the part, serve in church, and still miss the will of God.

That's why this book isn't just about discovering God's will. It's about aligning with it. And then living it out. Daily. Boldly. Joyfully. Faithfully.

The Cost of Misalignment

What happens when we live outside of God's will? We may still love Him. We may still attend church. But our lives begin to drift. Our peace is fragile. Our progress is slow. Our decisions become fueled by pressure, emotion, or fear—not purpose.

Just ask Jonah. Ask Saul. Ask the Israelites wandering in circles. When you resist God's will, you don't just lose time—you lose traction.

But here's the grace: it's never too late to return. This book is not a guilt trip. It's an invitation. Not to perfection—but to alignment.

What This Book Will Help You Do

This book will walk you through what it really means to know God's will and live it out. You'll explore:

- The different types of will (yours, others', the enemy's, and God's)
- How to discern the voice of God
- How to align your mind, purpose, and direction with His

THE WILL OF GOD

- What to do when obedience costs you something
- And how to walk daily, practically, and confidently in His plan

Whether you're in a season of clarity or confusion, this book will meet you where you are. And by the end, you'll not only understand more—you'll be empowered to move.

Because the will of God isn't just something you sit with. It's something you walk in.

You don't need to be perfect to walk in God's will. You just need to be willing.

God isn't asking for your performance. He's asking for your surrender. If you're open, He'll lead you. If you're listening, He'll speak. If you're hungry, He'll feed you.

So take a breath. Open your heart. And get ready.

This journey is going to be honest, practical, and full of truth. Not just for your head—but for your walk.

Chapter 1

THE POWER AND PRIORITY OF GOD'S WILL

There's something powerful about knowing what someone wants from you. It brings clarity. Direction. Purpose. Whether it's a teacher explaining a class project, a boss giving an assignment, or a friend opening up about their expectations in a relationship — knowing the will behind the request brings focus. It's the same with God.

His will is not a mystery we're meant to figure out alone. He desires to reveal it. He wants you to live it. And He has already provided everything you need to walk in it.

The Story Jesus Told

Jesus once told a short story about a man with two sons (Matthew 21:28–31). The father asked both sons to go work in his vineyard. One said “No,” but later changed his mind and went. The other said “Yes,” but never actually did it. Jesus asked, “Which of the two did the will of his father?”

It wasn't the one with the polite answer.
It wasn't the one who looked good on paper.
It was the one who actually obeyed.

That's a huge truth to understand up front: God's will is not about perfect words — it's about consistent action. He's not impressed with church talk, spiritual hashtags, or surface-level behavior. He's looking for obedience. Even if you started with "no," grace gives you the chance to still step into your "yes."

Why God's Will Matters So Much

Let's get to the point: Nothing in your life will bring lasting peace or deep fulfillment outside the will of God. You may achieve things, experience success, even look spiritually "on point" — but without alignment to God's will, all of it eventually feels empty. Why? Because we were made by God, for God.

Here's what Scripture says:

"Not everyone who says to Me, 'Lord, Lord,' will enter the kingdom of heaven, but only the one who does the will of My Father in heaven."

— Matthew 7:21 (CSB)

That's sobering. People who spoke His name. People who prophesied, cast out demons, did ministry. And still, Jesus says, "I never knew you." Why? Because they were active but not aligned.

You don't want to spend your life building something God didn't ask for. You don't want to wake up successful in the wrong thing.

God's Will Is More Than a Mystery

Sometimes, people treat the will of God like a riddle or a guessing game. But that's not how God works. He's not trying to hide His plans like an impossible puzzle. He's a Father — and fathers don't play games with their kids.

God's will is not complicated, but it does require surrender.

It is not confusing, but it does demand closeness.

God's will for you starts with what He has already shown clearly in His Word: salvation, transformation, obedience, peace, holiness, love.

From there, His Spirit leads you into the specific paths you're meant to walk: your relationships, your career, your mission, your growth.

And when you're in His will, something powerful happens — God rotates everything around you to work in your favor. Even when life throws chaos, His purpose still prevails.

Think of Joseph in Genesis. Betrayed by his brothers, sold into slavery, falsely accused, thrown into prison. Yet through all of it, he stayed aligned with God's will. In time, every twist and turn brought him closer to the purpose God had spoken over his life. What others meant for evil, God used for good. That's the power of God's will — it doesn't stop hard things from happening, but it ensures that those things won't destroy your destiny.

Obedience Over Optics

Let's talk honestly: we live in a time where appearance is everything. Social media can make it look like everyone is thriving, hearing from God daily, and living their best life. But let's be real — sometimes what looks like obedience isn't.

THE WILL OF GOD

You can post about God and still not walk with Him.
You can be surrounded by ministry and still not obey His voice.

You can be admired for your gifts and still ignore His guidance.

That's why the parable of the two sons is so relevant. One looked obedient but wasn't. The other started wrong but ended right. God isn't grading you on appearances. He's looking for authentic surrender.

You may have missed it before. You may have run from His will. But today, you can turn around. You can align. You can say, "God, I choose Your way."

How God Helps You Do His Will

Let's be clear — walking in God's will isn't easy. But God never asks you to do it alone.

"For it is God who works in you to will and to act in order to fulfill his good purpose."

— Philippians 2:13 (NIV)

That means the same God who asks you to obey is the One who helps you obey.

THE WILL OF GOD

He gives you grace to try again.
He strengthens you in weakness.
He redirects you when you drift.
He speaks to you when you ask.

And even when you make mistakes — and you will —
His mercy doesn't run out. His will for your life doesn't disappear after failure. You don't get kicked out of His plan because of a wrong turn. He knows how to reroute your steps and lead you back.

A Life Aligned with God's Will

So what happens when you actually start living in God's will? You begin to experience the peace of knowing you're not alone in your decisions. You walk into rooms with confidence, knowing you were sent by God. You pray with boldness, not out of performance but out of partnership.

You'll still face challenges — Jesus did. Paul did. Every person who ever walked in the will of God did. But storms won't sink you. Attacks won't absorb you.
Pressure won't stop you. Why? Because God will keep you where His will placed you.

And most of all, your life begins to make sense. Not always in ways others can understand. Not always in ways you can predict. But in ways that fulfill your deepest longing for meaning, purpose, and truth.

A Simple Shift: From “My Will” to “Yours”

Jesus Himself modeled this for us.

In the Garden of Gethsemane, hours before His crucifixion, He prayed a very human, very honest prayer:

“Father, if you are willing, please take this cup of suffering away from me. Yet I want your will to be done, not mine.”

— Luke 22:42 (NLT)

If the Son of God had to wrestle between His own will and the Father’s, you can expect to do the same. But Jesus shows us the way forward: choose God’s will over comfort, convenience, or control.

And here’s the promise: when you surrender your will, God doesn’t take from you — He gives to you. Peace. Power. Purpose. His will isn’t a prison; it’s the pathway to everything you were born for.

WHAT AREA OF YOUR LIFE DO YOU NEED TO STOP SAYING YES TO GOD AND START DOING WHAT HE’S ASKED?

Take a moment. Ask the Holy Spirit to show you. Then write it down. Pray over it. And take the first step toward doing the will of your Father.
